CHIEF'S EVIDENCE WANTED AT TRIAL IN TOMBSTONE, ARIZ.

The county attorney at Tombstone, Ariz., has requested Chief of Police McMillin to testify here at the trial of J. W. Darr and "Tom" McDonald, two young men charged with stealing an automobile from a Douglas, Ariz., garage. Chief McMillin caught the young men with the alleged stolen car near here, and obtained an alleged confession from them.

The trial is set for July 21. All the chief's expenses going, staying and coming are being met by the Cochise county authorities. The chief would like to oblige the Arizona authorities, but he isn't sure his evidence is vital to the success of the prosecution, and he hasn't made up his mind about arranging for the trip.

Manager Van Delmar, of the lighting company, said today that the city's bill this month would be no larger than hitherto.

The city will take over the maintenance of the ornamental lights on Central avenue under the new contract, when the present contract with the business men expires.

MAKING READY FOR MANEUVERS AT DEMING

General Herring Finds Companies G and L in Good Shape for Trip—Big Camp Day
July 17.

On his way to Deming, where the New Mexico national guard and regular army organizations will join in maneuvers next week, Adjutant General Harry T. Herring stopped in this city last night to see how arrangements for companies G and L's trip to camp were going. He found everything satisfactory and in good shape.

He said he would make no further comment at this time on the disposition of certain business men to oppose the attendance of national guardsmen in their employ at the maneuvers.

General Herring was accompanied by a number of officers. They left with him at midnight for Deming, where they will look over the camp grounds and make preparations for the coming of the guardsmen Saturday and Sunday. The encampment is to start Sunday and the maneuvers will last ten days.

With General Herring were Capt.
James L. Seligman, of Santa Fe; Capt. Norma L. King, of Santa Fe, regimental adjutant; Lieut. Frederick C. Test, U. S. A., inspector-instructor of the guard detailed by the government; Lieut. Edward Safford, of the company's department; Sergt.
Russell, clerk to General Herring; and Sergt. Collins of the commu-nary department.

General Herring talked over company matters and the maneuvers with Captain Himes of Company G and Captain Wickham of Company L. He dropped in for a few minutes at the dance which Company L was holding at the armory.

General Herring said that announcements of a rendezvous of companies here and of special trains for the trip to camp were erroneous.
The Albuquerque companies and the companies from Santa Fe and Las Vegas will leave for Deming tomorrow night in special day coaches, but the cars will be attached to the regular trains. The Pecos valley companies will also travel in day coaches. The other companies will travel in Pullman sleepers, arriving at Deming 6 o'clock Sunday morning.

The first battalion of the Sixth Infantry and a battery of the Sixth field artillery of the United States army will maneuver with the guardsmen. Officers from Fort Bliss will attend the maneuvers and a visit is expected from Gen. Tasker H. Bliss, commander of the Southern department.

The big day at the encampment, General Herring said, would be July 17, when a review will be held. Gov.
W. C. McDonald and members of his staff will be present. A sham battle will probably be held.

The night of July 17 the people of Deming will give a large social function to mark the presence of the governor and military dignitaries.

TELEGRAM STARTED TOO LATE TO HELP KIRBY

Sheriff on the Way for Him Before His Wire Offering to Settle Bad Checks. Case Reached Flagstaff.

Sheriff T. J. Pulliam of Flagstaff, Ariz., arrived in the city this morning to get J. W. Kirby, a veterinary surgeon, wanted at Flagstaff for alleged forgery. Kirby was arrested at a livery stable yesterday afternoon by Chief of Police Thomas McMillin on a telegraphed request from Sheriff Pulliam. He was recognized from a description given in the telegram.

When placed under arrest he denied his identity, saying his name was King, but after reaching headquarters he admitted he was the man wanted. He admitted to a Herald reporter that he passed two worthless checks, amounting to $45, in Flagstaff, but said he expected to make them good, and would cover them if given a chance.

He sent a telegram offering to make the checks good a few minutes after his arrest in the hope of stopping criminal proceedings, but Sheriff Pulliam was on his way after him then. Today, the police say, he agreed to return to Flagstaff with the sheriff. The latter expects to start with his prisoner tonight.

Kirby is 25 years old. When Chief McMillin located him he was ministering to a sick horse. He told the chief he had been in town only a few days, but that he had started to make money and was in a position to take up the Flagstaff checks if given a little time.
